

Masao Niisato

Professor, Kansai Gaidai University

Having earned his B.A. in Literature from Tokyo University of Education, Mr. Niisato worked for Tokyo Metropolitan Fuchu-Higashi High School, Senior High School at Otsuka, University of Tsukuba and the School Education Center, University of Tsukuba as an English teacher. He then took up assignments as Senior Specialist for Curriculum for the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT), Professor at the Faculty of Education, University of Toyama, and Professor cum Dean of Department at the School of Language Communication, Tokyo International University. He currently holds a position at Kansai Gaidai University, since July 2013. When working for MEXT, he was involved in revising the course of study, providing training to English teachers and preparing teacher's reference materials. He was Director of the Institute for Research in Language Teaching for 6 years from FY2006.